Dear Valued Customer,

I'm excited to share news with you today about the future of our company. In November 2018, Ply Gem Building Products and NCI Building Systems merged together to create a transformational company to service your needs. Today, we are the largest manufacturer of exterior building products in North America servicing both the residential and commercial markets and are uniquely positioned as a market leader.

For the past several months, our company's leadership team has been working together to create a shared purpose that combines the strengths of both NCI and Ply Gem. The purpose is grounded in the belief that every building we create with our products and every part of that building, positively contributes to communities where people live, work and play. Our building solutions are the cornerstone of the communities we serve.

This is who we are. And with that purpose in mind, I'm proud to announce that the new name of our company is Cornerstone Building Brands. A cornerstone is the foundational part or principle upon which something greater is built. The name emphasizes the essential role our buildings play in communities throughout North America and strongly supports our vision for future growth.

The combined leadership team of Cornerstone Building Brands is passionate about offering a broad portfolio of products and solutions to meet your needs and is committed to efficient operations, best-in-class service, and product innovation. As we move forward, you can expect all our primary brands on the commercial and residential sides to remain and go to market using their existing names.

Our main focus is to exceed your expectations and leverage the unique strengths of our combined organization. We are committed to being the most reliable company in the building products industry and have prioritized delivering innovative products and services with first class customer service every day. We appreciate your business and continued support and look forward to growing our business together.

Respectfully,
